

Yvonne Gitundu Trends

your weekly dose of fashion & beauty

Give me freedom, give me fire. Give me reason, take me higher. That 2022 World Cup anthem has made a home in my head, and the football fever is officially at its peak. During an event to celebrate the spirit of football and giving fans an enhanced live match viewing experience last weekend, we snapped the threads that matched the excitement of the day. I must say, I'm rooting for Africa!

Hair as an ornament

Braided hair accessories were used to style a trendy tent dress and bring a rough edge to a very girly look.

Puff sleeves

Red was on display on the day. A variety of different outfits with this colour were seen at the event. The baby doll dress turned heads with its unique puff sleeve detail that every girl lives for.

In the mood for celebration?

Tiered ruffles

The fanciest of them all rocked a gown full of drama. The print was perfection and the high-low bottom tiered with ruffles worked well with her square foot heels.

Shirt and kimono

This was a refreshing take on sets. We love how the matching shirt and kimono offers comfort with an edge.

Pop of colour

We had to document this lovely number for its loud celebratory message. From its bright colour to the playfulness of its luminous skirt. It all tied in well with the lace up detail in the back.

The shirt dress

A strappy vest made of bits of Ankara fabric breathed new life into a shirt and shorts combo. We couldn't get enough of this elevated outfit.

MODELS:
Vanessa Achieng (@Vachie1511), Grace Akinyi (@Graceabay), Juliet Onyango (@jullietonyango)

CLOTHES:
@twech_womanrunway

Photography: Fransoir Nderitu